Health Corner

In light of the flu and coronavirus concerns, holy water fonts are empty, the greeting at the beginning of Mass and the Sign of Peace during Mass are suspended. It is a practical recommendation that Holy Communion is received in the hand ...until further notice.

Entrance Antiphon—My eyes are always on the Lord, for he rescues my feet from the snare. Turn to me and have mercy on me, for I am alone and poor. ~cf Psalm 25(24):15-16

March 15, 2020 – Today's readings illustrate God's transforming power at work. Jesus breaks numerous cultural taboos by interacting with a woman, a Samaritan, and a person who has had five husbands and now lives with someone not her husband. Despite all of this, Jesus requests a drink of water.

The conversation between Jesus and the woman is revealing. Reaching out, Jesus asks for something ordinary. Given the religious boundaries separating them, the woman tries to draw Jesus into dialogue. Jesus simply replies by revealing himself as the one who has power to grant living water that will become a spring inside of her "welling up to eternal life".

Refusing to be drawn into another dispute about the place of worship (Jerusalem or Mount Gerizim), Jesus reveals that true worship of God is "in Spirit and truth." He makes himself known to her as the Messiah. She becomes a missionary to her people, and many come to Jesus.

John describes a drama of faith. Jesus takes the initiative. He speaks and gradually draws the woman closer to himself. He does not condemn her irregular way of life. He accepts her as she is. He overcomes her objections indirectly by deepening his engagement with her. At the same time, he leads her deeper into the truth. Faith is a personal encounter with Christ, and John shows how powerful this encounter is and what happens when one is receptive to Jesus.[source: 2020 At Home with the Word]

~ In His love and mine, Father Ken

Session 2: Wednesday March 18

An Encounter with Mercy

* We are not defined by our failures and mistakes; rather we are defined by God's love for us
* Confession is an encounter of God's mercy
* In the sacrament, God not only forgives us, but he also heals our wounds and the root causes of our sin
* It is Christ himself whom we encounter in the Sacrament of Reconciliation—the priest is acting in the Person of Christ.

Session 3: Sunday March 15 & Wednesday March 25

The Rite Explained & Session 4 for Children

- God forgives our sin in order to clear the way for love.
- We can choose to grow in grace or not.
- A good examination of conscience is taking the time to reflect on how we have failed to live up to who we are called to be.
- Mortal sin completely ruptures our relationship with God.
- A sin is mortal when it is a grave matter and is committed with full knowledge and full consent.
- The Rite of Penance includes the Sign of the Cross, stating how long since your last confession, listing your sins, receiving your penance, making an Act of Contrition, and receiving absolution.

WHAT CATHOLICS BELIEVE

Are We Justified by Faith or Works or Both?

It depends on what stage of justification we're talking about. If the initial stage of justification is in question, then our good works have no part to play. As the Catechism of the Catholic Church states:

Since the initiative belongs to God in the order of grace, no one can merit the initial grace of forgiveness and justification, at the beginning of conversion (2010; emphasis in original).

However, if the question refers to the ongoing (Rom. 3:23-24, 5:8-9) and final stages of justification (Rom. 6:16, Gal. 2:16), then works do play a part. This is how St. Paul understands the placement of works:

For by grace you have been saved through faith; and this is not your own doing, it is the gift of God—not because of works, lest any man should boast. For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God prepared beforehand, that we should walk in them (Eph. 2:8-10).

Notice that Paul excludes works only with regard to that initial stage of salvation/justification. After we're initially justified, then we must carry out the good works that God wills for us.

St. James teaches the same with regard to the corporal works of mercy:

You see that a man is justified by works and not by faith alone (James 2:24).

We also know that works pertain to our final justification, since Jesus teaches in Matthew 25:31-46 that the determining factor for those who go to heaven or hell are those who did and did not do the corporal works of mercy.
